PRIZES OFFERED IN HISTORICAL PARADE

$50 FOR BEST EPISODE—$30 FOR THE SECOND.

REQUIRES 400 PERSONS

Various Organizations Begin Work on Main Feature of Centennial Celebration.

One hundred dollars in prizes for the best illustration of Missouri history on the hundredth anniversary and soldiers reunion, to be celebrated in Maryville, September 7 and 8, is offered in an announcement made today by the general committee in charge. The prizes are as follows:

First Prize, $50.
Second Prize, $30.
Third Prize, $5.
Fourth Prize, $5.
Fifth Prize, $5.
Sixth Prize, $5.

The illustration will be based on the history written by the historical committee composed of Mrs. E. G. Orear, Miss Blanche Dow, Mrs. C. C. Hellmers and Miss Olive DeLuce. The history has been divided into twenty-one episodes, for which detailed plans have been worked out by the committee on historical parade and pictures, which is composed of Ed Keck, Fred R. Wolfers, Albert Kuchs, Ralph Marcell, H. L. Raines, Mrs. Will Montgomery, Mrs. J. C. Allender, Mrs. I. E. Tulloch, Mrs. W. W. Stilwalt, Mrs. J. D. Richey and Mrs. Halley Ford.

Each of the episodes will be depicted by one or more of the patriotic and fraternal organizations of the city. The points for the judges to follow are as follows:

Points for Judges to Follow.

Promptness in being on hand and ready for pictures, also parade—20 points.

Perfection of history as designated by Historical Committee—20 points.

Completeness of costumes according to episode—20 points.

Correct number of people required by episode and picture—20 points.

General effect of entire episode and picture—20 points. Total, 100 points.

Already many of the organizations are at work on their episodes. The DeMolays, who will show Black Hawk and his tribe fleeing before the coming of the white men, have already ordered costumes from Chicago. The Maryville Gun Club has almost completed its plans for the episode of "Daniel Boone," and the D. A. R.'s have done much of the work in connection with the "Liberty" episode assigned to them.

In their zeal for a faithful picturization, the Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbors are making efforts to secure real oxen for the episode showing a "Settlers' Scene." These oxen will be brought from Savannah.

The number of characters required in the various episodes range from two to forty-five. In all there will be two hundred, eighty-four principal characters. Boy Scouts, the Maryville Concert Band, drivers and minor characters necessary will bring the total number of persons taking part in the parade and pictures to well over four hundred.

Two Boy Scouts with each episode will bear placards telling the name of the episode.

The historical parade will be on the afternoon of the second day of the celebration. The living pictures on the evening of the first day will be drawn from the characters who will take part in the parade.

The complete program for the first day includes a band concert in the morning, a free dinner for soldiers at noon, the unveiling of the historical marker in the yard of the Maryville free public library and athletic stunts for the soldiers in the afternoon, and the living pictures with special music in the evening.

On the second day, there will be another band concert in the morning, the historical parade in the afternoon, and the monster "Over the Top" spectacle at night.

The stone marking the site of the first house in Maryville will be placed on the library yard tomorrow. The six ton granite boulder on the lawn of R. G. Mitchell on West Second street, for more than fifteen years a familiar object to passersby, has been purchased by the committee appointed to secure the marker.

A bronze tablet, 12 by 14 inches, will be placed on the boulder. The engraving has been completed and the tablet has been shipped.

THOUSANDS PAY HUMBLE TRIBUTE

FOLLOW ON FOOT TO GRAVE OF ROY D. HUNTERSON.

CASKET ON A CAISSON

Officiating Chaplain Heads Cortege on Best Loved Mount of the Gold Star Hero.

Behind a military caisson on which rested a flag draped coffin, almost four thousand persons followed the body of Roy David Hunterson to its final resting place in the Oak Lawn cemetery at Ravenwood yesterday afternoon. The funeral rites for the young gold star hero, the son of Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Hunterson, were the most largely attended of any that have been held in the county.

Six black horses drew the caisson, which had been constructed for the occasion by Hunterson's former companions in service. The body, brought back from its French burial place, was in a coffin draped in the national colors and placed on the caisson, as it had been carried in France.

The body had lain in state at the Hunterson home since its arrival Friday. A guard of honor conveyed it at 2:30 o'clock to the Methodist church and, after a short ceremony there, to the cemetery. The Rev. Father Ambrose, a former overseas chaplain, headed the procession. He rode Billie, the little black horse which was young Hunterson's favorite mount. Jack Pennington and George Miller, color bearers and Henderson Aley and Hoyt Craig, color guards, followed, also on horseback. Then came the Maryville Concert Band and fifty or sixty former service men, members of the Seth Ray David Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and of several American Legion posts.

Hundreds of other friends followed the coffin bearing caisson in a long, sad column. Except for the chaplain, the color bearers and color guards and a few motor cars which carried the members of the family and those too old to walk, the four thousand mourners paid their tribute to one of America's heroic dead by humbly following the coffin on foot in a slow journey from the home to the church and from the church to the cemetery.

The services at the church were short. They were held in the shade of the trees on the east side of the church, with a temporary platform erected in the middle of the street.

The Rev. Father Ambrose paid a brief tribute to the first of the Jackson township boys to make the supreme

Washington, Aug. 22.—The United States is sitting tight today watching the boiling pot in Latin America. This goverment having informed Panama that the United States does not feel compelled to suggest that Costa Rica delay any longer taking over the disputed boundary territory awarded her by award of the late Justice White and having ordered the Marines to Panama is waiting further developments.

Officials of the state and navy departments are keeping silent as to the reason for dispatching marines but it is generally believed the marines will be ordered to supervise the taking over of the disputed territory by Costa Rica.

Washington, Aug. 22.—The United States does not expect trouble as the result of Costa Rica putting into effect the White award and taking over the disputed territory in Panama, the state department announced officially at noon today. SENATOR REED "BEATING BACK"?

SO SAYS ST. LOUIS REPUBLICAN GLOBE-DEMOCRAT

WILL RUN FOR SENATE

The St. Louis Paper Also Mentions Him as a Presidental Possibility in 1924

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat had the following political dope in its Sunday's issue:

Senator James A. Reed is "beating back" in Democratic Missouri politics, according to Democratic politicians who were opposed in 1920 to his going as a delegate to the National Convention at San Francisco because of his attacks upon the League of Nations and Woodrow Wilson.

Some Missouri Democratic politicians go so far as to say that if the Democratic party hopes to win in Missouri in 1922 or in 1924 it must accept the leadership of Reed and the leaders who stood with him.

When Reed passed through St. Louis last Tuesday on his way to Washington he refused to make any reply when asked if he would be a candidate for United States Senator in 1922 to succeed himself.

Reed's intimates say that he will be a candidate, and some are optimistic enough to predict that he will have no opposition. Some predict that he will not be re-elected United States Senator and that he will be formidable candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1924.

There are indications in Democratic circles of a softening toward Reed which lends strength to the view that he might become the leader of the Democratic band in Missouri.

"Old Guard" at His Back

Reed has at his back the "old guard" leader of Missouri Democracy, which includes the prominent federal office-holders, many of the postmasters and the politicians who ten years ago were in absolute control of the destinies of the Democratic party in this state.

One element Reed must reckon with are the women, some of whom were hostile to him for opposing the women's suffrage. How they will take to his candidacy if he runs for re-election is problematical. A combination of radical drys and the women would defeat Reed for the nomination, but the desire of the Democrats may be so keen to win in 1922 that they may waive their opposition to Reed's views either upon suffrage or liquor.

Washington, Aug. 22.—The tax revision bill of 1921, estimated to cut 818 million dollars from the nation's tax burden by 1923, was passed late Saturday by the house, 274 to 125, on almost straight party vote.

American Agriculture in the Hands of the American Farmer

By J. E. F., Poland-China Breed Promotion.

The pig club is the biggest asset to american agriculture in the hands of the American farmer today. Through this medium he serves two purposes fundamental to the welfare of the country. He distributes pure bred stock and he keeps the American boy on the farm.

During and since the war we have talked and written much about Americanzation. We have tried it on factory and workshop, flaunted it much in political and social circles and the flambuoyant crator has stood with his feet on the daisies and pulled the ruffles off the stars. But have we ever thought of Americanizing the farm? What have we done to keep young, vigorous American manhood away from the lures of the bright lights where people step quick and the music is intensified jazz?

Increased production, improved marketing and betterment of rural conditions are the things that are most talked of by all farm federations and by others interested in farm life and money making. While we talk and write, thousands of boys and girls are leaving the farm for the urban attractions. What's the solution?

We all realize that the best welfare of the nation and the building up of a stable agricultural industry some steps must be taken to stop the exodus of the farmer boys to the city and keep the American agriculture in the hands of the American farmer. There is another well defined purpose, that of extending the benefits of pure bred stock on the American farm.

I am a firm believer that the Pig Club and Calf Club and other live stock clubs encouraged among the young of this country will do all three things, keep the boy and girl on the farm, thereby Americanizing the farming industry and will eventually drive every scrub animal off the farm, supplanting them with pure bred money making live stock.

In support of this statement I want to offer the results obtained in one California county in which the Santa Barbara Farm Bureau took the bull by the horns and went to work. The data for this argument was furnished by D. T. Bachelder, county farm advisor.

The Bureau staged a double contest. The boys and girls in each township were organized. Each was given two Poland-China pigs. One was a fattening contest, the other pig was to be kept for a later sow and litter contest. One of the pigs was fattened and sold for pork, the other bred to a pure bred boar and the litter contest was on.

It is easy to see that this sort of a contest would serve numerous purposes. It interested the boys and girls by giving them a share in farm returns. It made expert feeders out of the contestants. Forced them to study rations and care. In other words it made producers out of them, trained in all expert knowledge. Last but not least, in the litter contest every farm was stocked with pure bred hogs. How much more could any organization working in the interest of the county do? Will any well informed farmer dispute that this sort of promotion will not interest the farm boys and girls by offering him money returns for his effort and application?

The results of the fattening contest was that the contestants made enough money on the sale of their fat porker to pay for both the porker and the sow. When she farrowed, the boy or girl had a litter of pigs for his trouble. They did not cost him a cent. What was the result? Out of the twenty-five sows distributed there was over 125 pure bred hogs in the county and a half hundred young Americans who would not leave the farm unless drafted for the army. This farm bureau then sold these pure bred pigs belonging to the contestants and other boys and girls got into the game. Quod erat demonstrandum; every farm boy and girl in that California county is a farmer in earnest. They are lovers of live stock. They have a monetary interest in things about the farm. The motormen and conductors and the stenographers to supply cities in that section have to be recruited from other parts of the country. Nary a boy or girl would give up their chances for a city job.

The American farmer has been agitating good roads, a project in which he has been encouraged by his city cousin. He has been told of farm accounting, marketing, subsoiling, rotation of crops and what not. All these are good and should have proper attention but never to the neglect of the two fundamentals of farm life. Handing down to your son or daughter your American heritage and advancing their chances for better money through raising pure bred stock.

Again, I say that the Pig Club and kindred organizations will keep our land in the hands of our American ancestors and will make a million happy homes in the next generation because boys and girls have been given an opportunity to make money, educate themselves in animal industry and thereby settle all other problems that confront the American farmer.

HEARING OF HICKMANS ON TODAY AT ATLANTIC

Ellis G. Cook is One of the Witnesses for the State at Murder Trial

Ellis G. Cook is a witness in the case of the state vs. Arthur and Benjamin Hickman, brothers, of Coin, charged with the killing of Deputy Sheriff Albert Patton of Page County, Ia., last February which went to trial at Atlantic, Ia., today.

The capture of the Hickmans, followed a forty-five-hour chase by posses, was effected in the timber near Phelps City, Mo., by Temple Shandy, a young farmer armed with a sawed-off shotgun.

It is alleged by the state that the Hickmans shot Patton following their holdup of a dice party in the railroad yards at Shenandoah a few hours before. The Hickmans are said to have stood watching the game for an hour. Suddenly drawing their guns they lined up the players and robbed them of between $300 and $400.

In formed of the holdup, Patton started in pursuit of the Hickmans, who were said to have started down the railroad track toward Bingham. Patton took a train for Bingham. As pedestrains recognized by companions of the officer as the Hickmans, it was pulling into Bingham two were passed. Patton got off the train and commanded the pair to surrender. This command was answered by a shot from behind a pile of ties and Patton fell mortally wounded. In the excitement the supposed bandits escaped in the darkness. Mr. Cook witnessed the shooting.

The Hickmans had lived at Coin a year, coming there from Missouri. They had worked on farms and at other employment. Arthur, the eldest, has a wife and five small children.

CIGAR MAKERS DEFEAT PRINTERS—SCORE 10-9

Sensational Catch by Hunt for the Printers Was the Sensation of the Game.

The Cigar Makers defeated the Printers in a hard fought game on the College diamond Saturday evening. The score was 10 to 9. In the first part of the game with O'Banion on the mound for the El Retinas the Printers hit the pill anywhere they chose. At the end of the second inning the score was 8 to 1. The only tally that the Cigar Makers had made was a mit by O'Banion that was really good for two bases, but was stretched to a circuit by an overthrow at third.

Brewer, who had been pitching airtight ball for the Printers stumbled and fell at home in the second inning and hurt his knee and from then on he was unable to put the stuff on the ball. In the third inning the Cigar Makers ran in eight runs. This number would have been larger had it not been for the work of Hunt, a Hannibal man, who was playing for the Printers.

With two out and men on second and third the batter knocked a high fly toward the bleachers. Hunt ran and reached over the railing of the seats and picked the ball out of the air for the sensation of the game.

O'Banion was replaced in the box by Bluel, an outsider. He pitched very fast ball but was not able to control the pill and hit one batter.

Parsons went to the mound for the Printers and pitched good ball the rest of the game.

SENATOR REED "BEATING BACK"

Reed's friends admit that there are many Democrats in Missouri still hostile to Reed, but they predict that before the primary election campaign arrives next spring the bulk of Missouri Democrats will be backing Reed's prospective candidacy.

The overwhelming Republican victory in Missouri last fall, bottomed upon a national platform hostile to the league covenant, apparently has caused many Missouri Democratic leaders, who wanted in 1920 to kick Reed out of the Democratic party because he opposed the league pact, to reach the conclusion that Reed's attitude upon the league was given indirect indorsement by the voters of Missouri.

Reed's friends cannot take over the Democratic organization in Missouri without a fight from League of Nations bitter-enders, but that the trick will be accomplished is confidently expected by conservative Democratic politicians, some of them connected with the Democratic State Committee.

Anti-Volstead Platform.

If Reed runs, apparently it will be upon a platform in opposition to oppressive enforcement of the Volstead law. He already has attacked in speeches delivered in Missouri the attempt to search residences for liquor—upon the ground that this constitutes a direct violation of the rights guaranteed to citizens under the federal constitution.

This may bring him into conflict with the dry element in the Democratic party, led by Charles M. Hay, prospective candidate for United States Senator; Mrs. W. W. Martin, formerly of Cape Girardeau, who fought Reed in speeches delivered before the National Committee and the Credentials Committee of the National Convention at San Francisco, and other radical drys who last year seized the machinery of the Democratic party in Missouri.

the land of the painted mountains where the Red Men warred and hunted

Out beyond the world of hum-drum—lies the West! An enchanted land to which still clings the spirit of the old days of romance and adventure. A place enwrapped by Nature in a purple glamour.

Colorado! Centuries ago the Spaniards found it, named it "The Land that is Red"—and remembered it forever after. Vacation this year in this wonder Playground of the Nation.

Visit the Denver region—Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, Manitou, Colorado Glaciers, Grand Lake and numerous retreats in "The Land Among the Clouds." See the homes of the ancient cliff-dwellers in Mesa Verde.

Through Storied Lands

"Hop" over the mountains into Utah, "The Promised Land." Take a dip in Great Salt Lake; see the exquisite canyons in Zion National Park.

Tour Yellowstone Park, the Wonder-Geyserland of America—in picturesque Gardiner Gateway, out over spectacular Cody Road, or vice versa.

Visit Glacier Park—terrific in its grandeur, thrilling in its Alpine beauty.

Know the charm of the Pacific Northwest. See Mount Rainier and Crater Lake. Come back through glorious California and the inspiring Yosemite.

All the wonderful West is calling you this vacation-time. Wherever you wish to go, Burlington service will take you. Go one way and return by an entirely different route—at no added cost.
